

STUDY ENVIRONMENTAL LAW IN COMO, ITALY

JULY 10 - 14, 2017

Enjoy one week studying comparative environmental law in the heart of Europe

International comparative environmental law seminar (Critical topics in environmental law in a comparative perspective)

The International Comparative Environmental Law Seminar in Como, Italy is jointly presented by the University of Insubria School of Law, the University of California, Davis School of Law and the University of Aix-Marseille.

This intensive, one-week program provides a unique opportunity law students and legal professionals to study environmental law by examining and comparing European Union and U.S. environmental law policies and regulatory regimes. This year the program will focus on environmental liability from different points of view and will include a one-day conference on legal transplants in the environmental field hosted by the Bologna University.

Classes are taught in English.

THE LOCATION

Como, Italy, is centrally located in the heart of Europe. The stunning city of Como, situated in proximity to Milan and Lugano, Switzerland, provides a sophisticated intellectual and legal environment in which to study comparative environmental law. Classes will be held at the University of Insubria School of Law.

CREDIT

Italian students passing the final exam will be awarded 5 CFU.

The Como Bar Association recognizes 12 credits.
